

DONOHOE-DEVESON

Beautiful Venetian lace was chosen by Miss Ellen Irene Deveson for her marriage on the 26th June to Eric George Donohoe, son of Mr and Mrs T. Donohoe, of Guildford, Western Australia. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr and Mrs F. J. Deveson, Drummartin Street, Sunshine, and her sister, Mrs R. V. Dodd, acted as matron of honor.

Rev. Father Ryder officiated at the ceremony in Our Lady's Church, Sunshine, and the wedding was followed by a reception and dance in Our Lady's Hall, at which 139 guests were entertained.

One of the loveliest features of the wedding gown was its yoke, formed of tiny rouleaux, merging into an unusual shoulder line and a soft bishop sleeve. The train of the frock was finished with a new scalloped hemline. A little train-bearer and a white satin page boy walked behind the bride, and were followed by the matron of honor and the bridesmaid, Miss Olive Donohoe, in frocks of pale green lace over satin. The bridesmaid wore as a veil rosy mauve tulle, with halo of orange blossom. Bouquets of mixed sweet peas made a lovely contrast, and sweet peas were again used in the short tulle veils.

Little Kath Hussey, dressed as a small replica of the bridesmaids, wore a tiny shepherdess cap of green satin and sweet peas. The bride carried only a white prayer book and a trail of white carnations, while Mrs F. J. Deveson chose a spray of deep crimson carnations to wear against her grey fur cape and frock of French crepe.

The married couple will make their home in Sunshine when they return from their honeymoon in Queensland.

Best man was Mr Hughie Donohoe, the groomsman Mr George Deveson and the page boy Reg. Nicholls.
